Are you worried about what children and young people are exposed to online?

FACETOFACEBOOK is a new workshop designed by LOVEFORLIFE to provide parents and carers with basic practical tips on keeping young people (and themselves!) safe as they enjoy the benefits of advances in internet technology. Current trends will be highlighted and advice given on how to prevent things from going wrong online.

The programme will highlight the advantages and potential pitfalls of internet technology, and equip parents and carers to help their children protect themselves as they explore the online world.

Areas covered will include:

- Social networking
- Cyberbullying
- Mobile technology / “sexting”
- Grooming / online predators
- Privacy / filtering strategies

Schools, churches and community groups are welcome to host this session, while individuals are also encouraged to register their interest and they can then be notified when a session has been planned in their local area.
